Endocrinopath

Endocrinopath is a homeopathic combination formula for symptoms related to the endocrine system, particularly the HPA axis (hypothalamus-pituitary-adrenal) and the HPT axis (hypothalamus-pituitary-thyroid). The formula contains homeopathically-prepared endocrine sarcodes from healthy hypothalamus, pituitary, thyroid, pancreas, and adrenal tissues. It also contains homeopathically prepared well-known adaptogenic herbs, including licorice root, ginkgo biloba, and gotu kola.

Indications

For symptoms such as weakness, restlessness, anxiety, exhaustion, low spirits, temperature fluctuations, light-headedness, excessive thirst, hair loss, dry skin, sugar or alcohol cravings, headaches, water retention, skin eruptions, and disrupted sleep.
